

Press Release : For immediate release - 24th May 2016

Jordan Gray, star of TV series The Voice, will perform her first show in Edinburgh at the Inclusive Networks ‘#ThisIsMe Rooftop Garden Party’ on 2nd July.

Jordan Gray, role model and star of the hit TV show The Voice, will entertain guests at Inclusive Networks very first ‘#ThisIsMe Rooftop Garden Party’ taking place in the stunning rooftop garden at The Glasshouse 5* hotel in the heart of Edinburgh on Saturday 2nd July 2016 - her first ever performance in the city.

Guests will enjoy a fun afternoon that will include a very special exclusive 30 minute performance by Jordan. As part of Paloma Faith’s team, Jordan wowed millions of viewers with renditions of popular songs including Kate Bush’s ‘This Woman’s Work’ and Bruce Springsteen’s ‘Dancing In The Dark’. Jordan will have her photo taken with guests, who will also receive a special limited edition signed Jordan print - produced for and exclusive to the event.

Jordan can’t wait to perform at the event. She said : “I couldn’t be happier to finally be playing Edinburgh. Since my mother and I moved to Scotland I’ve been dying to get out amongst the people and give them a part of me. The best part of me – the music. I feel like Scotland inspires something special in me. I look forward to seeing you at the #ThisIsMe event at The Glasshouse on 2nd July.”

The drinks will be flowing and The Glasshouse will be serving delicious summer treats. A celebration of diversity, there will be other live music and entertainment throughout the afternoon too. DJ Rebecca Vasmant (international DJ) will be on the decks, there will be an art exhibition by Edinburgh based artist Mark Vice, other creative pop-ups and lots of surprises to make sure it’s an afternoon to remember.

Thomas Anderson, Founder of Inclusive Networks, said : “Inclusive Networks had a fantastic first year in 2015 and I’m very excited to see this develop with our new #ThisIsMe celebration events that will take place around the UK. The ‘#ThisIsMe Rooftop Garden Party’ will be an annual event and it’s sure to be the hottest ticket in Edinburgh that day. We have a diverse lineup of awesome entertainment planned and lots of fantastic supporting partners who are showing their commitment to diversity and inclusion in the heart of Scotland’s capital city.”

The event will also see the unveiling of the first issue of Inclusive Networks brand new printed #ThisIsMe magazine - a celebration of diverse role models across the UK.

The event follows the recent sold-out #ThisIsMe ‘networking remixed’ event, hosted by global brand Kiehl’s in Glasgow on 17th May 2016. In attendance were representatives from a diverse range of organisations, including DELL, the Scottish Football Association, Scottish Parliament, Glasgow Airport, PPA Scotland and charity Stonewall Scotland – and many more. Derek Mackay, Cabinet Secretary for Finance and Constitution at Scottish Parliament, showed his support by attending the event and having his photo taken with the #ThisIsMe branding.
